SCHEDULE 1

INFORMATION REGARDING ADMISSION TO THE LEGAL PROFESSION IN NEW ZEALAND

HOLDERS OF NEW ZEALAND LAW DEGREES

Eligibility

1. In order to be eligible for admission as a barrister and solicitor of the High Court of New Zealand you must satisfy the following educational requirements prescribed by the Council of Legal Education (“the Council”):
 - You must qualify for award of an approved LLB degree, or LLB degree with Honours, from a Law School University in New Zealand.
 - You must also have passed a course in Legal Ethics taught at one of the Law School Universities in New Zealand.
 - You must complete the Professional Legal Studies Course.
2. Under the Lawyers and Conveyancers (Lawyers: Admission) Rules 2008, in order to show that the requirements noted in paragraph 1 above have been completed, for admission purposes, you need to obtain a Certificate of Completion (“Certificate”) from the Council.

Evidential Requirements

3. Before the Certificate can be issued you must provide the Council with the following documents:

NB: If the university where you obtained your degree has now moved to digital academic transcripts, please attach a printout of the transcript from the My e-Equals portal (the link to the portal will be provided to you by the University on request), in lieu of the original hard copy requested.

- (a) A transcript from the University where you studied for your LLB degree, verifying that you are eligible for, or have obtained, an LLB degree (this phrase covers Honours students who would be eligible for the LLB degree having completed the LLB component). If you have undertaken any of the core subjects at another University, you are also required to provide an academic transcript from that University, (even though the academic transcript from the University where you completed your degree may show these subjects have been credited).
- (b) A transcript from a University verifying that you have passed Legal Ethics, if the information is not included in the transcript referred to in paragraph (a).
- (c) A certificate of completion of the Professional Legal Studies Course issued by the Institute of Professional Legal Studies, or the College of Law New Zealand verifying completion of the Professional Legal Studies Course.

4. The transcripts referred to in paragraph 3 (a) and (b) above should be obtained directly from the University at which you completed your LLB degree and Legal Ethics course, upon payment of any fee prescribed by the University. The transcript must show the subjects which you have undertaken, and the years in which you passed the subjects. Evidence of completion of the Professional Legal Studies Course can be obtained from your PLSC provider (either of the bodies listed in paragraph 3(c) above).

Evidence of Identity

5. As evidence of your identity you must provide your original birth certificate. A New Zealand birth certificate can be obtained from the Department of Internal Affairs.
6. If you have changed your name, a certified copy of the change of name document (eg the marriage certificate or the change of name registration or declaration) must also be provided unless the change is recorded on your birth certificate and you have provided the Council with the original copy of the birth certificate.
 - 1) The certification must be done by an independent person, who belongs to at least one of the following groups: A) a Barrister and Solicitor of the High Court of New Zealand (this includes enrolled solicitors), B) a Justice of the Peace, C) a Court Registrar or Deputy Registrar, D) a Notary Public and E) a Consulate..
 - 2) Please ensure that the certification states “true copy of the original which is sighted by [the certifier]”, and shows the signature, name and title of the certifier, and the date of certification. Please ensure that the certification does show all the above details and if necessary show this guide to the certifier to ensure compliance.
 - 3) If the certification is not correct, eg it is not dated, the certifier does not state their name or title, or the certifier does not state that the original was sighted, your application will be rejected and this will mean that there will be delays and you may not receive your certificate as quickly as you wish.

Stale Qualifications

8. The Council has imposed restrictions on the currency of qualifications and certificates. In any case where a “qualification for admission” is more than 10 years old at the time when a candidate for admission applies to the Council for a Certificate, the Council may, in its discretion, assess the qualification, and may impose further study or training on the candidate.
9. In the case of a New Zealand degree holder, a “qualification for admission” includes an LLB or LLB (Honours) degree, a core subject, Legal Ethics, and the Professional Legal Studies Course.
10. If your qualification, or part of it, falls within the stale qualification period, you will be required to make a stale qualification application before applying for your Certificate. In such cases, the Council has the discretion to impose further study such as degree courses, or to require passing of an Examination in the Law and Practice of New Zealand, or a legal ethics course, or the Professional Legal Studies Course to refresh the stale qualification. Applications for Certificates which include stale components will not be accepted until the stale qualification assessment has been completed. Please see Stale Qualification Application Form.

Process on Receipt of Application

11. You should receive your Certificate within 30 working days from the date when we receive the application. Please note that applications cannot be fast tracked for any reason, and applicants should take the 30 working day period into account when planning their admission date.
12. Please contact the Council if 30 working days have elapsed, and you have not received your Certificate. Please note that the Council cannot guarantee that you will receive your Certificate in less than the specified 30 day period.
13. An application which is incomplete, or is not in the proper form (i.e. original documentation requested not provided or incorrect certification of supporting documentation), may be returned to the applicant for proper completion. Accordingly, the Council may not be able to process incomplete applications within the 30 day period.

Verification

14. You must only provide genuine documents (in the form specified in the check list of the application form). If the Council is not satisfied that a document that you have provided is genuine, the Council may ask you for further information to assist in verifying the document.
15. If the Council remains unable to be satisfied that the document is genuine, the Council may:
 - Decline your application (and retain your application fee);
 - Retain the document for as long as it considers necessary;
 - Return the document to the purported issuing institution; and/or
 - Report the matter to the relevant authorities, including the New Zealand Police and/or the New Zealand Law Society, at any time.
16. You will be notified of the Council's concerns and/or proposed courses of action in writing and will be given an opportunity to comment before any final decision is made as to the veracity of the document.

Fee

17. The fee is $98.90 (including GST). Payment may be provided in the form of a cheque, or may be paid electronically directly into the Council's bank account.

Validity Period of Completion Certificate

18. The Certificate will be valid for a period of three years. If the three year period expires and you have not been admitted to the profession, you will need to return the expired Certificate to the Council and re-apply to the Council for another Certificate. Your qualification will be examined for staleness on all occasions that you are required to re-apply. Please use the attached Completion Certificate application form, and note that the application fee referred to above must also accompany your application.

Return of Certificate and Original Documents

19. To comply with the NZ Post requirements on delivery of original ID documents, your certificate and your original documentation will be sent in the prepaid, self addressed courier bag provided with the application. Please also include a plain A4 envelope to protect the documents in the event the courier bag is damaged during delivery.

Please do not return this document with your application
